South Korean Troops Surge Forward in Counter-Offensive Northeast of Yongchon Which Threatens to Chop Off Red Spearheads Lashing Down at Kyongju

TOKYO, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Counter-hitting U. S. troops erased a Communist wedge some five miles north of Taegu today as heavy Red guns pumped shells into the city's fringes in preparations for an expected big push on the heart of the Allied beachhead.

Simultaneously, South Korean troops in the northeast sector surged forward Monday in a counter-offensive northeast of Yongchon that threatened to chop off Red spearheads lashing down at Kyongju.

The latter major hub lies 50 miles north of Pusan, keypin Allied entry port.

Along the 50-mile upper rim of the United Nations defense rectangle, other elements of some 80,000 North Korean troops were being slowly rolled back by two American-aided South Korean divisions.

This counter-offensive was aimed at removing the threat to the key U. S. air field six miles southeast of the enemy-occupied eastern port of Pohang.

What was described officially as a "heavy" Communist infantry onslaught was loosed before dawn Monday morning against the north flank of the U. S. Second Infantry Division some 22 miles below the pivotal northwest cornerstone base of Taegu.

FLIGHT TO THE COUNTRY

As the experts see it, there are two main reasons for the current flight to the country by hordes of erstwhile city dwellers.

Farm land has suddenly become popular again, and in several midwestern states farm land values have hit an all time high. This is a trend that was tentatively under way before the Korean war broke. Good crops and the price support program have made farming look attractive to thousands who ordinarily would have stuck to a city apartment or to a postage-stamp-sized suburban plot.

The other pressure seems to be one of decentralization, which has been accelerated in some areas by threat of bombing by an eventual aggressor. This trend has had most force, as might be expected, in the most highly industrialized regions, although national surveys seem to point out exceptions.

New York City newspapers have ads urging consideration of country places and estates at distances farther than extreme commuter range. Some openly urge people to get away from bombs. Others are more delicate about it.

Whatever the reason, the fact remains there is a firm trend back to the land. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture small, part-time and residential farm units have increased sharply in numbers. Perhaps the best barometer lies in the fact that farm land values have recouped from their slump of late 1948.

MAO AND KOREA

Chinese Nationalist sources say three Chinese communist armies already are inside North Korea, and more are on the border. U. S. Army intelligence also reports a concentration of Chinese communist troops on the Korean border.

It is possible that Moscow has already taken the long view and written off the successful prosecution of the Korean war by North Koreans alone. Russia's aim now may be to get Chinese red forces in there and pitching as soon as possible. It would be desirable, from the communist viewpoint, to cloak this new invasion with a legality of sorts. This might explain the claim of "invasion" by U. S. and British planes put forth by the Mao regime.

There is another theory that is worth examining. It may be that Mao fully realizes the role of the Korean Peninsula in the future of communist China. If, for instance, the western frontier of freedom is to follow a line running southwest from Japan, through Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines, then Korea, strategically, should come into communist possession. To anyone schooled in Russian thought and action, the device of launching an invasion by claiming attack by the intended victim would seem perfectly natural.

All the evidence isn't in yet. But where there's this much smoke there's suspicion of fire.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette, issue dated at Bristol May 1, 1902. The Gazette, a weekly news paper published at Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

William Kelly, son of Mrs. Catherine B. Kelly, is in Bristol this week, having been called here by the illness of his mother. Mr. Kelly is a renowned and successful theatrical manager and makes his home in London, England. Since he left Bristol as a young man he has travelled all over the world, at the head of many theatrical organizations.

W. J. Davis, the Cedar street marble dealer, has just completed 25 years of business in Bristol.

Joseph Durkin has purchased the property at the corner of Dorchester and Wood streets, occupied by E. D. Jennings as a grocery, from Edward Braden.

William Blackwood, who has sold his bakery business on Mill street, will move with his family to his Radcliffe street property, next to the water works.

"The Goats" is an organization now forming composed of members of Court Onward, No. 89, Foresters of America, and some lively times are promised for the near future. Any information concerning "The Goats" will be gladly furnished members of the Court by the following committee: Charles W. Dalton, president; Charles E. Finney, secretary; Jere Sherlot, treasurer; J. P. Stradling, Moses Louder, Robert W. Dyer, and George Hunter.

FALLSINGTON — An effort is being made to get Andrew Carnegie to erect a new building for the Fallsington Library Company, which celebrates its centennial this year. It is hoped the effort will be successful for there are many rare old volumes on the shelves, which are in the old frame building, and which are improperly protected from fire. ## THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Not Yet Cleaned Out

Washington, Sept. 11. The now known and proven facts concerning Communist infiltration into the Federal Government and also into the CIO labor movement, with which the Democratic Administration has been closely linked since its inception, reveal as never before the gullibility of the American people and the absurd ease with which we can be bamboozled.

Today it is too clear to dispute that from the beginning of Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal in 1933 this Communist permeation was a coldly calculated conspiracy skillfully directed from Moscow, the primary purpose of which was to fill the key Government posts with Soviet agents and propel us toward economic chaos. This completely explains the strong Communist support given Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate in 1936, 1940 and 1944 and the continued Communist support to this day of New Deal and Fair Deal policies. As the Daily Worker frequently has declared, "These policies all go in our direction."

Yet, in those early New Deal days and later—men who ventured to present these facts were denounced as "Red baiters," "Roosevelt haters," "Witch hunters," "Enemies of Labor," etc., etc. A terrific journalistic clatter was set up at the mere suggestion that Communist influences were potent in the Administration and in our politics. There is still some of this only the other day there was a loud howl from "liberal sources" about the suppression of "free speech" because Madison Square Garden had refused to rent to an organization led by the Attorney General as subversive. Paul Robeson, the Communist Negro, denounced the refusal as "unconstitutional." The "free speech" issue was also ridiculously raised because the guests at a New Hampshire hotel, asked whether they wanted to be addressed by Mr. Owen Lattimore (who, while not a Communist, perhaps, can be fairly classed as Left-wingish), replied in the negative, which certainly was their right.

But the old violent and vituperative outbursts at the mere allegation that all members of the Roosevelt-Truman administrations were not loyal Americans rarely occur. In the light of recent disclosures they have become silly. Pushing Senator McCarthy wholly aside, it is impossible longer to sustain that attitude. Unquestionably, the truth as we now know it would never have been revealed but for the testimony of three former Communists—Whittaker Chambers, Louis Budenz and Lee Pressman. One of these—Mr. Chambers—was, admittedly, himself a Soviet agent. Scooped at and disregarded when he first took his story to Government officials, later—largely due to the persistence of Representative Nixon, of California, now Republican candidate for the Senate proof and if located on the ground offered by the late Miss Mary Williamson would be nearly safe from destruction by fire.

DOYLESTOWN — On Tuesday next the school directors will assemble here to elect a county superintendent. There are three candidates, the present superintendent, William H. Slotter, Prof. A. S. Martin, principal of the Doylestown school, and Prof. E. W. Martindell, of Hulmeville school. Mr. Slotter did not decide to become a candidate until recently. He had the office about 15 years. Mr. Martin has been a candidate twice, but was defeated by Mr. Slotter.

EMILIE — Two marriages have been solemnized within the week, the first being Miss Lottie Morris to Francis Prall, the second Miss Dewees, of Newportville, and Mr. Harry Stackhouse.

NEWPORTVILLE — Bromley Wharton, Esq., and Banker Smith, of Philadelphia, came up the Neshaminy creek in a steam yacht on Sunday afternoon, and paid a visit to "Sunbury." Mr. Wharton's country seat.

Harold Peirce, of Philadelphia, one of the trustees of the Bristol Presbyterian Church, gave a dinner at the Silbert Hotel last Friday evening to which were invited the pastor, Rev. Dr. Alexander Allison, and the former and present members of the board of trustees and the session of the church. Mr. Peirce made a donation of $500 with which to pay off the indebtedness for current expenses of the church.

Frank T. Chambers has sold his restaurant on Radcliffe street, opposite the Silbert house, to William E. Jeffries.

Bucks County Friends First-Day Union met Saturday at Bristol. The meeting was attended by Friends from all over Bucks County.

against the extremely radical Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas—Chambers substantiated his charges in such a way as to result in the conviction of Alger Hiss and the shocking revelation of the theft of State Department documents for transmission to Moscow. In one of yet few public utterances he has made since the Hiss conviction, Mr. Chambers last Monday asserted that his testimony against Hiss had revealed only a small part of a "big conspiracy."

Inasmuch as Mr. Chamber's previous assertions have been proven truthful and no one has ever suggested a plausible motive why he should commit perjury, it is reasonable to suppose he has not yet told the full story. The same can be said of both Mr. Budenz and Mr. Pressman. The former is now on the faculty of Catholic University and has been used as a Government witness in five cases against Communists charged with conspiracy. In each case his testimony has been substantiated. Without it the eleven Communists, tried in New York, could never have been convicted. These facts are admitted and, as in the case of Mr. Chambers, no credible motive has ever been alleged as to why he should lie.

As to Mr. Pressman, his identification of the Messrs. John J. Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer as members with him of a Communist group sustained two charges that used to be vehemently denied: (1) That the CIO was at one time (and parts of it still are) saturated with and controlled by Communists; (2) that the Communists did hold numerous key positions in the Roosevelt Administration. For example, Mr. Abt was a special assistant to the Attorney General, and before that a key attorney in the old AAA. Also he was in the WPA under the late Mr. Hopkins, in the Securities and Exchange Commission and is now general counsel for the Progressive party, from which Mr. Henry Wallace, the poor sap, has just withdrawn. Mr. Witt started Government service with the AAA and became secretary of the National Labor Relations Board. Mr. Kramer served with the AAA, the National Youth Administration, the Senate Committee on Civil Rights, the NLRB, the Office of Price Administration, the Senate's War Mobilization Committee and, later, the Progressive party.

Add all this to the fact that Mr. Pressman was for years general counsel and a dominating figure in the CIO, that he was ousted only after public sentiment was aroused over his connections, that obviously the Messrs. Abt, Witt and Kramer are not the only comrades he had in public office—add all this up and, considering our present relations with Russia, you have a situation that can no longer be swept aside by name calling or claiming it is "just politics." Nor, under the circumstances, will many doubt Mr. Chamber's statement that Mr. Hiss was only a small part of a "big conspiracy." In brief, we have by no means cleaned the Communists out of either the Government or the labor movement, and we would not have known they were there at all if it had not been for the three reformed Communists above mentioned.

S. S. Beneficiaries May Now Earn $50 A Month

In addition to substantial increases in their monthly checks, there is more good news for those who receive Social Security benefits.

"One of the recent changes in the Social Security Act was to increase the amount of money a beneficiary can earn in a month without forfeiting his benefits," Harry W. Pease, Manager of the local Social Security Office at 3297 Kensington avenue, said today. "Beginning September 1, 1950, if you are under age 75, you may earn as much as $50 a month (instead of $14.99 a month as before) in work covered by the Social Security Act and still receive your benefits. This applies to child beneficiaries as well as adults."

"Beginning September 1, 1950," he continued, "if you are age 75 or over you may have monthly earnings in any amount and still receive benefits. Any worker age 65 or over whose earnings are $50 or less a month should call at this office, to file his claim for these benefits. Similarly any worker age 75 or over should file his claim if he has not already done so since he will be entitled to those benefits regardless of his earnings."

"However," he cautioned, "those beneficiaries who are under age 75 should remember they are still required to report their employment on a job covered by Social Security whenever their gross earnings total more than $50 in a calendar month."

★ CONSERVATIVE CHARM ★

HERE'S A HOUSE that weathers the years nicely and never seems to go out of style. Its simple, rectangular lines are in good taste today —and tomorrow, too. The exterior is conservative and appealing. Large windows, in the modern manner, frame the charming entrance.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

IF architecture in the modern manner isn't your cup of tea, here's a home with conventional charm. A simple rectangular house, it offers much in roominess. The exterior is conservative and appealing.

An attractive stairway just inside the front door divides the first floor of the house in half. On one side of the stair there's a large living room that runs the depth of the house. Windows at either end of this room provide good ventilation and ample light. The long wall houses a fireplace, which adds a note of warm hospitality. Next to it, there's a door opening onto a terrace—just the place to enjoy some summer sun.

The dining room and kitchen are on the other side of the stair. A deep closet in the dining room might well be used for guests' wraps. The kitchen set-up is streamlined and modern. Sink, refrigerator and cabinets are grouped along one wall. The range and a broom closet are arranged along the opposite wall. The cellar stairway entrance is conveniently placed in the kitchen, a handy arrangement for the housewife who uses the cellar as a laundry.

Upstairs there are two bedrooms and a bath. One room—as large as the living room—provides ample space for twin beds. A closet on either side of a window in this room makes an attractive window alcove, which would be ideal for a lady's dressing table. The other bedroom is smaller but still large enough for twin beds. The closet here is extremely roomy. Two windows provide plenty of light and cross-ventilation.

Two linen storage units are provided in the hallway outside the bath.

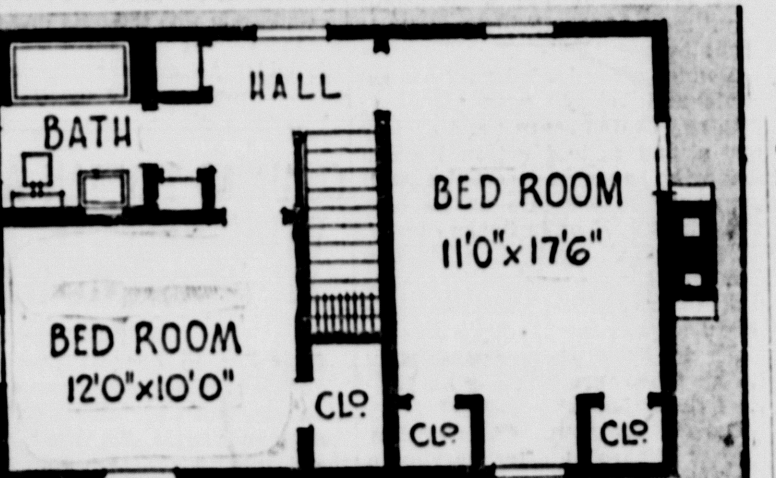

Ceilings are 8 feet high. The house comprises 14,035 cubic feet.

An information sheet giving sketches and diagrams, which will enable you to judge whether this is the house for you, is available. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper for the name and address of the firm from which this sheet may be obtained. Ask for "The Pitt."

To arrive at a general estimate of the construction cost of this house, ascertain construction costs per cubic foot in your locality, then multiply this by the number of cubic feet given here. The result should be within 10 per cent either way of the cost.

THE STAIRWAY divides downstairs. On one side of it there's a large living room; on the other side are the kitchen and the dining room.

GOOD-SIZED BEDROOMS are featured upstairs. One is as large as the living room. Closet space is ample. Each bedroom has two windows.

the law, I think I am entitled to have a lawyer."

Wright then held the three without bail for a further hearing this evening.

The prisoners were then taken to the Bucks County prison at Doylestown.

The men were arrested Friday after an intensive investigation over four months by state and local police.

"We had men following them every minute of the day," said State Police Captain Charles S. Cook, commander of the police district in which the murder occurred. "We put them to bed at night and got them up again in the morning."

The holdup-murder netted the trio about $100. With Sklar at the time and who were roughly handled were his associates, Peter Harkins, 27, 2308 N. Boulevard street, Harry Goulding, 44, 4253 N. Marshall street, and Allen Ostroff, 35, of 7949 Fayette street, all of Philadelphia.

bride consisted of a shrimp toned suit, short black top coat, and black accessories. She wore an orchid.

For the wedding ceremony Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy blue dress of lace, coral hat, and a corsage of orchids. Dinner was served at the Penn Manor Club, Falls township, with a reception at seven taking place in Bristol Terrace I community house.

Zalot-Soffel

LANGHORNE, Sept. 11—With the Rev. N. Herbert Caley within the chancel, the marriage of Miss Joan Gertrude Soffel and Mr. Richard Chester Zalot, both of this borough, was an event of interest here, Saturday at four o'clock p. m. The nuptial ceremony, solemnized in the white gladioli-decked St. James P. E. Church, united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Soffel, 219 N. Pine street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zalot, 221 N. Pine street.

Music was provided by Mrs. Baldwin, vocalist; and Mrs. Neely, organist. The vocal selections were: "I Love You Truly," "Oh Promise Me," and "Because."

The bridal gown was white, with bodice of Chantilly lace having sweetheart neckline and short, puffed sleeves; and the skirt of nylon tulle extending to a short train. The bride wore long, lace gloves. Her headpiece was a heart-shaped crown. White satin slippers completed the ensemble. She entered the church on the arm of her father.

Miss Daris VanNortwick, the maid of honor, made her way up the aisle in a costume of deep green; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Edward Biedka and Miss Shirley Hibbs in pale green. The brides were of lace, with V necklines; and skirts were of net. The flower girl was Carol Ann Biedka.

Members of the bridal party serving Mr. Zalot were Mr. William Meredith, who was best man; and Messrs. Edward Biedka and Wayne Kramer, ushers.

Dinner was served to 225 guests at the Soby Post country club, with 150 additional invited to the reception.

A suit of lemon tone, with brown accessories, was the selection of the bride as she left for Montreal, Canada, for a honeymoon journey. The two will make their home on Avenue B, Parkland.

Both Mrs. Zalot and Mrs. Soffel wore corsages of white roses. The mother of the bride was attired in a toast dress with brown accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore grey, with black accessories. The Bucks County Photographic Society started activities of the 1950-51 season at the New Hope Recreation Center last week.

Charles Hargens, president, emphasized that technical skill in the use of camera, enlarger, and other photographic material, is a necessity to the production of a really fine picture, but that more is needed. The photographer, or the artist who paints in oil, water color or other media, should have a strong feeling with respect to the subject on which he is working. He asked that each member make a special effort to produce such a picture during the next quarter, and take it to the December meeting.

Mr. Hargens, professional illustrator, has his studio at Carversville.

Appointment of a committee to prepare a slate of candidates took place at a meeting of the Gardenville Community Association at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Labs, Gardenville, Thursday evening. The committee, which will meet at the Labs home this evening, consists of Harry Labs, Betty Wendt, Laurence Stryker, Alice Snyder and William Jacobs.

The members outlined the winter program of square dances, and town, was the presiding officer. The firemen met in one of the fire station rooms, and the Ladies Auxiliary groups in another.

The firemen's meeting was largely attended.

The invocation was by the Rev. John D. Weldsan, pastor of Dublin Evangelical Reformed Church; and welcome was extended by Chief Lloyd Y. Crouthamel, Dublin Company, who is also vice president of the county organization.

Representatives from the 32 companies present heard minutes by Clifford S. Sheerer, Quakertown; and report of treasurer Louis C. Leedom, Yardley. Treasury balance was listed at $1269.24. Donald Roberts, Trevese, was named delegate to the state firemen's convention. Two death benefits were paid during the past quarter.

Need for having water placed in the canal was stressed by Bucks County Fire Marshal Robert Graham, Chalfont. He asked that a committee be named to cooperate with the Delaware Valley Protective Association toward this end.

This committee includes: Robert Graham, Chalfont; William Ettenger and Charles Roberts, Newtown. The same subject was touched upon by Raymond Faust, New Hope, who added that a petition has been circulated in New Hope in that attempt. Graham also spoke on need for a unified fire code and unified building code. He said the Bucks Co. Fire Chiefs Ass'n has recommended such, and the county firemen, on Saturday, backed the move.

The building code, it was pointed out, would mean greater restrictions, such as fire stops, etc.; also fire escapes on all houses or apartments where individuals live on the second floor or above.

Lloyd Crouthamel spoke of the picnic held at Forest Park last summer. He went on to mention that firemen are called on for aid in many cases other than fires. He cited a case where a Dublin man was caught in a hay baler, his cries being heard by a passing motorist, who summoned firemen. The firemen were required to take the baler apart, a half hour's task, to free the man, whose arm was amputated almost immediately at a hospital

The Lions Club of that area proceeded to complete the baling, then ploughed the farmer's ground and sowed his winter grain.

The profits of $115.85 from the firemen's picnic was turned over by the picnic committee to the death benefit fund.

Edgely Fire Co. station will be the scene of the December meeting; Quakertown (West End Co.) in March; while in June the annual meeting and parade will take place at Doylestown.

William L. Stackhouse, Doylestown, reported on dedication of a hospital building at Camp Ockanickon in memory of Thomas B. Stackhouse.

The report for the past three months, given by Marshal Graham, follows: Number of alarms, 56; fire loss, $69,780; insurance on property at risk, $283,900; property at risk, $552,300; house fires, 11; barn, 7; store, 1; church, 1; grass, 6; dump, 1; automobile, 11; store house, 1; factory, 3; lumber yard, 1; false alarms, 3; special services, 3; garage, 1; diner, 1; bridge, 1; fires caused by lightning, 3; airplane fire, 1; firemen injured—Chief John F. McIntyre, injured at Andalusia fire when molting material from a roof scared them; L. Dean, smoking in bed at his home in upper part of Bucks County, rescued by firemen.

Edward Dyer discussed the fire at the Wm. Stess property in Bensalem township; and Chief Ettenger discussed the Musselman fire at Newtown. Mention was made of a Line Lexington fire where a cigarette tossed from a car rolled into dry grass, igniting it and a barn in turn, causing $50 loss. Mention was also made of a sparkler tossed on a barn roof by a child at Plumsteadville (reported by Chief Rush), the loss being $40.

Report for first eight months of the year for work of Bucks Co. Rescue Squad, Croydon, was made by Harry Eckert, Croydon. Calls answered totalled 780; sick and injured transported, 838; accident calls, 262; fire calls (for rescue trucks), 17; drownings, 13; hangings, three; shootings, 2; gas asphyxiation, 6; oxygen administered, 41; calls requiring oxygen tent, 24; blood donations, 390 pints; miles travelled by three ambulances, 27,733; miles travelled by rescue truck, 1,161; man hours on duty, 12,916. ## Charges Truman Administration Is Withholding Truth our country is at stake — when the balance there is uncertainty at Washington where there should be decisive action. There is conflict where there should be unity and weakness where there should be strength. There is concealment where there should be truth and frankness.

"At a time when the blood of our finest young men is being spilled in far-off Korea and when thousands of others are being called into the armed services the people have a right to expect strong, capable leadership at the head of their government.

"But I regret to state, developments are proving that such leadership is lacking. Instead there is confusion, bordering on chaos.

"How could it be otherwise with the policy makers in Washington and the military leaders in the field working at cross purposes and pulling in opposite directions?

"And above all there seems to be a deliberate refusal to tell the people the truth. The blunders of the leadership are concealed behind a camouflage of words.

"In brief, the administration at Washington does not trust the good sense and understanding of the people and will not take the people into its confidence.

"After watching events at close range in the national capital I have come to the conclusion that the administration is frequently so muddled up it does not know what to tell.

"President Truman's order to General MacArthur to withdraw his statement to the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention was one example of that kind of mix-up.

"In his statement General MacArthur explained, from a military standpoint, the prime importance of Formosa to our defense position in the Pacific.

"General MacArthur stated and I quote:

"As a result of its geographic location and base potential, utilization of Formosa by a power hostile to the United States may either counter-balance or over-shadow the strategic importance of the central and southern flank of the United States front line position."

"It is difficult to understand the President's indignant rebuke to General MacArthur when it is recalled that Mr. Truman on June 27, made virtually the same statement in these words, which I now quote:

"The occupation of Formosa by Communist forces would be a direct threat to the security of the Pacific area and to the United States forces performing their lawful and necessary functions in that area."

"It should be recalled also that President Truman did not display the same indignation a few months ago when his Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, announced publicly that Formosa had no special military significance for the United States and should be regarded as a problem to be settled by the Chinese Communists and, the Chinese Nationalists.

"Let me give you another example.

"Recently when the Secretary of the Navy, a member of the President's cabinet, made a speech in Boston suggesting that the United States might be willing to start a war to establish lasting peace the President told him to shut up.

"Secretary Matthews did not mention Russia in his speech but it threw the State Department into wild excitement.

"Even at this late date Dean Acheson and his boys seem to be fearful of offending Joe Stalin and his band of international bandits.

"After all our experience of the past decade in seeking to appease the Communists, has the administration embarked once more upon a crusade of appeasement? Do they think this time it will be different?

"But the Russian propaganda mill pulls no punches. In their press, their broadcasts to the world out of the mouths of their diplomats at the United Nations and from their satellite Communist countries, the United States is being attacked with vicious lies and slanders. The Russians call us the aggressors in the Korean War.

"But we answer these charges timidly, fearing to say Russia when we mean Russia.

"Can this be the kind of leadership which our people want from Washington?

"I believe the apathy and the bewilderment which our people suffer is but a reflection of the incompetence of many in high places in our nation's capital. The facts show that time and again, the top leadership of this country has guessed wrong, estimated wrong and forecast wrong. This is what we are paying so dearly for today.

"On November 3, 1949, General J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, announced:

"Given four or five months more training, American ground troops throughout the world will be able to take on anybody, any time, anywhere."

"Then, on March 2 last, President Truman said:

"The defenses of the United States are in better shape than they have ever been when the country was not at war."

"And more recently the Secretary of Defense, Louis Johnson, announced:

"If the enemy attacks at four, we will counter-attack at five."

"With all of these fine words from our highest authorities it naturally was a great shock to the nation to learn how miserably unprepared we were. Our people had been taxed billions of dollars for defense in the past war years only to discover that we did not even have enough manpower and equipment to fight North Korea.

"Do you remember that on January 12, 1950, the Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared in a speech:

"If South Korea were invaded, our attitude would be that South Korea would be able to resist. And then Mr. Acheson went on to add that we certainly would not get mixed up in any wild adventures in the Far East.

"Well, within a very few months, the invasion came. South Korea was not able to resist and we did get involved in that so-called wild adventure.

"Perhaps you remember the famous remark of the President of the United States who told the nation on June 1, of this year:

"The world is closer to peace now than it has been in the last five years."

"My fellow Pennsylvanians, these are words of your leaders in Washington.

"And, as I said earlier, the administration does not trust the American people. It is your blood and the blood of your sons which must flow in this war. The wages earned by the sweat of your brow will be taxed away to pay the bill. But your leaders do not tell you the truth.

"On July 19, your President declared to the Congress, and I quote:

"We must recognize the possibility that armed aggression may take place in other areas. The world situation requires that we increase substantially the size and material support of our armed forces over and above the increases which are needed in Korea."

"Notice the word 'substantially.' What does it mean? Does it mean we must get ready for World War III? It means that, why don't we have all-out preparation?

"Just the other day, at the request of the President, the Senate Armed Services Committee killed the bill to establish universal military training. The committee said it would consider the matter next year.

"You will recall that the request for Universal Military Training came from the Secretary of Defense. And he didn't ask for it next year. He asked for the enactment of the bill now. Yet the President ordered it killed.

"That is not only a fine example of our failure to adequately prepare, but also another example of the confusion within the administration.

"Preparation for full scale war calls also for real controls to maintain the national economy on a sound basis. Such controls should be instituted now on prices, wages and scarce materials.

"But the President demanded from Congress—and was given—a rubber stamp control bill which empowers him to impose whatever controls he wants whenever he wants them. And he has said he doesn't want price and wage controls now.

"What can this mean except that the administration does not trust the people in this Congressional election year? The administration does not want to tell them how serious the situation really is and what controls should be placed in effect—until after the election.

"That is a shocking, shameful thing to do when the nation's life and future may hang in the balance.

"The Administration, it appears, is still gambling with the safety and security of this nation of 150 million men, women and children—gambling that we can escape World War III. That is recklessness. It is not the leadership the people have a right to expect.

"My fellow Pennsylvanians, we have been living under a great delusion. We have been led to believe we had new miracle weapons, super-bombs, super-planes and other things with which to defend our country without the use of properly trained ground soldiers.

"Misled by the Administration, the people have only now awakened to the fact that these were weapons on paper, bombs on paper, tanks on paper, planes on paper and an army on paper.

"A paper defense for the billions upon billions spent in the past five years.

"We are outnumbered in Korea. We have lost prestige throughout the Far East.

"We have lost prestige in Western Germany.

"We have lost prestige in Western Europe.

"The American people are learning now the lesson they must learn—that money alone does not win wars. They are learning that sweat and blood and proper training and equipment are the tools of victory.

"And they are beginning to wake up. They are demanding to see our balance sheet. The American people want to be trusted and taken into the confidence of their leaders.

"The American people want to know the military and economic commitments of the United States over the world. This news may startle the nation but unless the truth becomes known, we cannot expect our people to become aroused to their full strength.

"It is up to the administration to tell our people the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about these matters. Let us not be deceived into thinking that a war in which we are suffering thousands of casualties is nothing but a little police action.

"My fellow Pennsylvanians, this war will not be won by soft-hearted diplomatic maneuvering. It is a rough, tough clash of armed men and machines in the flaming hell-fire of battle.

"It calls for the best we have in military genius, in bold and courageous leadership and heroic sacrifice on the battlefield.

"It calls for strength, determination and sacrifice on the home front.

"It demands that we raise our moral and spiritual standards to the highest levels of righteousness and obedience to the laws of God and man.

"That, my friends, is the foundation of the patriotic service which each of us owes to our country.

"Let the call go forth to every corner of our land, to the cities, the towns, the farms and the countryside.

"Wake-up, America! The time for action, the time for truth, the time for real leadership is now.

"If our leaders give us a bold, courageous plan and policy, and we all do our full duty, living in righteousness, World War III will be prevented."

Fortune smiles on those who make a habit of reading Courier Want Ads.

Two baskets of white gladioli decorated the front of the church, and white gladioli were used for pew bouquets.

The organist was Mr. Horace M. Hutchison, Morrisville. Mr. Charles Quigley, Ship Bottom, N. J., soloist, prior to the ceremony sang "Thine Alone" and "Through The Years". During the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attired in a white satin gown trimmed with Chantilly lace, featuring square neck line, cluster of seed pearls at neckline, long train and long sleeves. A four-strand pearl choker and pearl earrings were worn. She wore a white satin cap with finger tip veil, and white satin slippers. Her cascade was of white roses and Stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Elaine Reed, sister of the bride, wore a melon colored dress, with satin top and net skirt, matching satin poke bonnet, with feathers across back, silver slippers, and melon mitts. Miss Reed carried a cascade of white pom poms.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Winifred Potts, Trenton, N. J., Claire Linck, and Constance Welker, Edgely. Their gowns and hats were turquoise color, styled like that of maid of honor. Each carried a cascade of white pom poms.

The best man was Mr. Paris Allison, Morrisville, and ushers Messrs. Richard Ettenger, Richard Davis, and Arthur Greenlee, Morrisville. A reception followed at the Reed home. A buffet supper was served on the lawn to 250 guests from New York, N. Y.; Trenton, N. J.; Morrisville, Philadelphia, Edgely and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Benham's wedding trip is a tour of the New England states. Mrs. Benham's travelling costume was a duobonnet suit, gray accessories; and a corsage of yellow roses. She graduated from Bristol high school, class of '48, and is employed by the New Jersey Manufacturing Insurance Co. #### Prayer for Mercy:

O Heart of Jesus, full of tenderest love and mercy for repentant sinners, we turn to Thee, as to an infinite ocean of mercy, for the forgiveness of our many and heinous sins. Stand between us and the justice of our Heavenly Father, that in Thee and through Thee we may find life, in death and at the judgment seat, the mercy Thou has purchased for us with Thy life-Blood on the Hill of Calvary. Sweetest Jesus, be not to me a judge but a Saviour. Amen.

STOCK CAR RACES PREVENTED BY RAIN

PENNDIEL, Sept. 11.—The scheduled running of the 200-mile National Grand Circuit strictly stock car championship race at Langhorne Speedway yesterday was postponed because of rain. The race will be held next Sunday at three p. m.

At least 44 of the fastest cars in the country will take the green flag next week. The race sponsored by the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing is open only to 1946 and later model American-made automobiles, with the field limited to 55 starters. It was won last year by Curtis Turner, Roanoke, Va., in the record time of 2 hours, 52 minutes, 54.12 seconds.

The drivers will be racing for $6000 in prize money. The winner will receive $2000, 300 points for the Grand National Circuit point standing and the "Hot Rod Happy" Trophy. Maureen O'Brien, 100 and 200-meter AAU swimming champion, will present the trophy.

Given Ticket Home And Is Paroled

The defendant had been sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve one year. He was arrested by State Trooper Duane C. Allen, of the Langhorne sub-station. His license had been revoked in 1939, when he was held on an involuntary manslaughter charge in Northampton county. He was sentenced Feb. 15.

President Judge Hiram H. Keller paroled Timothy Cole, who stole $52 from Horace Dixon's home at Penn Manor, and the defendant was directed to get out of Bucks county. He was convicted of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods and was sentenced by Judge Keller in July, 1949.

WILL SET DATES FOR SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS

The playoff dates for the semi-final and final games of the Bristol Suburban Softball League will be set this evening at a meeting to be held in the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street. The Franklin, Jefferson, and Second Ward managers are invited to attend the session. It is most likely that the semi-final series between Jefferson and Franklin will get under way tomorrow evening. It will be the best-of-three series with the winner to play a three-game series with Second Ward, regular season champs.

Counter-Hitting American Troops Erase Red Wedge

Continued from Page One field communiques said the Red attack was "contained" and "no ground was lost" in the face of this push east of the Taegu-Pusan lifeline supply route.

Along the south wing of the 120-mile Korean battle perimeter, units of the two Red divisions sprung two artillery-supported assaults under cover of darkness before dawn Monday 30 to 35 miles west of Pusan. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in a Monday mid-afternoon communique that the hard-fighting U. S. 25th Division hurled back both attacks "without loss of ground."

The supreme commander's bulletin listed 2,673 additional troops lost by the 160,000-man North Korean invasion army to United Nations ground forces alone during the 24 hours ended Sunday midnight.

These included 2,630 Reds killed or wounded and 43 captured.

Air and ground observers reported counting at least 1,500 enemy dead below Taegu after the U. S. Second Division recovered all ground lost to a Red attack east of the Nakdong river.

Airmen said they tallied 1,000 Communist dead in the Division's north and central sectors after 24 hours of small but fierce Red onslaughts. Two American ground patrols counted 350 and 150 additional bodies of Communists at other points along the Second Division's front.

One of five Sunday enemy lunges against the defense are five miles northwest, north and northeast of Taegu poked a southward salient into U. S. lines southeast of Taegu before it was checked. The other four were beaten off.

Along the vital south front before Masan, harbor gateway only 25 air miles west of the prime port of Pusan, an Eighth Army spokesman said it appeared that all pockets of Red infiltrators in the American rear had been blotted out.

These pockets long had menaced the 25th Division's lines by interfering with military traffic and threatening to join any Red forces that might succeed in breaking through the American front.

The spokesman said there were no indications, as of midday Monday, of any further Red troop movements or buildups in the south that might presage renewal of a major enemy push on Pusan from the west.

At the opposite end of the front meanwhile, the South Korean Third Division launched a fresh northward counter-push Monday designed to recapture the strategic road running eight miles inland and southwest from Pohang to Angangni.

Field dispatches said the South Koreans were advancing at noon Monday against little resistance.

He spoke of a "heavy attack" unleashed early Monday north of Taegu where the enemy apparently was moving to develop a crucial frontal smash by some 40,000 tank-powered troops to bear down upon and overwhelm the fortress city.

This followed five suicidal "banzai" charges, all of which were thrown back by Taegu's defenders Sunday and Sunday night.

The Monday pre-dawn assault, MacArthur said, compelled one unit of the battle-hardened U. S. First Cavalry to make "a short withdrawal," after which the onslaught was "contained" from "new positions" closer to Taegu.

Front dispatches reported the Americans counter-attacked and just about eliminated the Red wedge which had been thrust 300 yards (nearly one-fourth of a mile) into the First Cavalry's lines.
